Dear Parent/Carer,

Re: Teams Assignment Page Update and Parent Weekly Email

Recently I wrote asking you to visit the Microsoft Teams User Feedback page and vote for the suggestion to restore a function that meant all assignments could be seen in one place. Thank you to everybody who voted. We added over 600 votes in a few days and I am delighted to say that Microsoft have just restored the function. Students can now go to the 'assignment' tab on the web app, desktop app and mobile app versions to see all assignments in one place without needing to click on a class.

Secondly, we have been testing a new cover system using Teams that will also allow students who are self isolating to access some of their work. While we fine tune the system, it is possible that some 'cover work' assignments will filter through to your weekly email update. To avoid confusion all assignments that are homework should contain the word 'homework'. Work that is set as cover in a class will be labelled as a lesson, for example '2nd October 2020, Period 1, Mr Harvey, Geography'. Students are not expected to complete this work as an assignment.

Yours faithfully,

Mr D Harvey
Assistant Headteacher
